A word of welcome from Mrs Peggy Greiser, Head of the District Council

Dear Valued Ladies and Gentlemen,
Dear Athletes and Officials:

We are happy to welcome you again to Oberhof from 4 through 9 of January 2022 for the BMW IBU World Cup Biathlon—this time, luckily, with our amazing fans returning to the Arena am Rennsteig. Last year already, we could demonstrate that we were able, together with Biathlon's world body, IBU and the German Skiing Federation, to organize top-level professional sport events in challenging times thanks to comprehensive concepts. Yes, we will show once more this year, which stands as the litmus test for the Biathlon WCH of 2023, that we are capable of the organization of competitions that are safe for all participants—including for our loyal fans who produce this unrivalled atmosphere whatever life throws at them. For almost two years, athletes, and TV viewers alike, have had to make do without the “Hey” for every hit and the “Oh” where the target remained black.

Not only the sound, also the view will be somewhat different compared to last year, since the upgrading work in what is going to be the WCH stadium and along the tracks have moved up to the next level. Despite the construction work's having been resumed only last spring, when possible again, progress is very obvious.

Particularly impressive is the new equipment structure that houses the snow groomers, snow-farming equipment, and the like and supports a raised stand for more than 2,000 spectators. The overpass associated with it connects the stadium to the team area. The new sport science building, where the access to the grandstand is located, is part of the new look of the WCH arena, just as another structure built at and for the shooting range. The upgraded course and track network, with new infrastructure for lighting, sound installation, and snow-making, the extended grandstand as well as the now-ready tunnel construction complete the state-of-the-art overall profile of our place that will host the World Championships in 2023.

Not only has the existing snow storage at the indoor ski track been enlarged, another “snow silo” has been put up at the “Kulle Bend” section of the course. As a consequence and adding the storages near the Kanzlersgrund ski jump, we have been able to stock up a total of 40,000 cubic metres of white splendour at the three sites: quite a safe bet for the upcoming World Cup.

In January, you will note that much has changed again in Oberhof, despite Covid-19. Athletes, officials, and service personnel will thus go on having the benefit of the upgrading works in the arena.

Let me extend my thanks to the many partners, sponsors, organizing staff, and most of all, the volunteers without whom an event this size simply would be impossible. They keep up the tenacity and cherish the passion it takes to achieve the holding with no hiccups that turns this great sports event into an exciting experience—even when circumstances, as they are this year, are far from easy.

I am wishing a safe trip here to all athletes, officials, service staff, and fans, fun and success at the competitions and, of course, many targets hit at the range. Enjoy your time at Oberhof and stay in good health!

Yours, Faithfully,
Peggy Greiser
Head of the Schmalkalden-Meiningen District Council

Gründe:

I.

Für Wettkämpfe und zum Training in den Einrichtungen des Zweckverbandes „Thüringer Wintersportzentrum“ Oberhof werden von den Teilnehmerinnen und Teilnehmern Kleinkaliberwaffen und die dazugehörige Munition benötigt. Für ausländische Teilnehmerinnen und Teilnehmer, unabhängig, ob aus EU-Staaten oder aus Drittstaaten, bedarf es für die Mitnahme gesonderter Erlaubnisse, mit Ausnahme von Personen, die einen gültigen Europäischen Feuerwaffenpass besitzen.

Die Sportstätten des Zweckverbandes „Thüringer Wintersportzentrum“ Oberhof in Oberhof werden von zahlreichen ausländischen Biathletinnen und Biathleten zu Wettkampf- und Trainingszwecken (mit entsprechender Einladung) mit ihrer Wettkampfwaffe besucht. Der bürokratische Aufwand bei der Erteilung von Einzelerlaubnissen ist aufgrund früherer Erfahrungen unverhältnismäßig hoch und soll durch diese generelle Ausnahmegenehmigung – ohne Sicherheitsverlust – für den Biathlonsport und für die Genehmigungsbehörde vereinfacht werden.

II.

Das Landratsamt Schmalkalden-Meiningen ist für den Erlass dieses Bescheides gemäß §§ 48 und 49 WaffG i.V.m. § 3 Abs. 3 ThürVwVfG i.V.m. § 1 der Thüringer Verordnung zur Durchführung des Waffengesetzes sachlich und örtlich zuständig.

Gemäß § 12 Abs. 5 des Waffengesetzes (WaffG) kann eine Ausnahme von den Erlaubnispflichten des Waffengesetzes zugelassen werden, wenn besondere Gründe vorliegen und Belange der öffentlichen Sicherheit und Ordnung nicht entgegenstehen.

Besondere Gründe für eine Ausnahme von der waffenrechtlichen Erlaubnispflicht zum Besitz und zur Mitnahme nach und aus der Bundesrepublik Deutschland von Kleinkalibergewehren und ihrer dazugehörigen Munition können hier unterstellt werden, da die Teilnehmerinnen und Teilnehmer ausschließlich im Rahmen dieser Wettkampfveranstaltungen einschließlich des Trainings zeitlich begrenzt und auf Grund der vom Veranstalter erteilten Einladung bzw. Teilnahmebestätigung ihrer Kleinkalibergewehre besitzen und mitnehmen.

Durch die festgelegten Bedingungen und Auflagen wird auch den Belangen der öffentlichen Sicherheit und Ordnung Rechnung getragen.

Die Kostenentscheidung beruht auf § 3 Abs 1 Nr. 1,3 Thüringer Verwaltungskostengesetz (ThürVwKostG).

Information Sheet

Storage and transport of rifles

Inspections to verify the correct storage

Storing your rifle in your hotel room

Your rifle has to be kept in a locked rifle bag/ rifle case. There are no exact specifications about the make or type of the lock. The ammunition has to be kept apart from your rifle in a separate, locked container.

Your rifle must not be stored loaded. However, you may leave empty magazines with your rifle.

Any athletes leaving their hotel room without their rifle have to lock the door to their room. These guidelines are intended to prevent the rifle from being misplaced or being taken by an unauthorised person (Art. 36 of the German Federal Firearms Act [Waffengesetz], Paragraph 36.2.15 of Art.36 of the General Administrative Provisions on the Federal Firearms Act [Allgemeine Verwaltungsvorschrift zum Waffengesetz]; Art. 13 paragraph 11 of the General Ordinance/ Regulation on the Firearms Act [Allgemeine - Waffengesetz - Verordnung]

Inspections to verify the correct storage

According to Art.36 paragraph 3 Sentence 2 of the German Federal Firearms Act the District Council Schmalkalden-Meiningen [Landratsamt] is entitled to inspect how athletes and coaches store their rifles while they are at the DKB Ski Arena in Oberhof for competitions and training. Generally such inspections will not be announced in advance.

For this reason, there is an agreement between the DKB Ski Arena Oberhof, the DKB Ski Hall Oberhof, the Sports Hall Oberhof and the District Council Schmalkalden-Meiningen to inform the District Council of the athletes' and teams' whereabouts. If possible, not later than ten days before the team's arrival.

During their inspection, the District Council Schmalkalden-Meiningen will only check whether the rifles are stored correctly.

In the event of violation the District Council Schmalkalden-Meiningen is allowed to instigate proceedings to pose a fine on the permit holder (athlete/ coach), according to Art. 53, paragraph 1, number 19 of the German Federal Firearms Act.

Transporting rifles

Your rifle and ammunition have to be transported separated from each other in a locked rifle case/ container. If your rifle will be transported by a third party, that person has to carry the "Weapon Import Form/ Transport Permit" with them (Art. 12, paragraph 1, number 3b of the Firearms Act). The athlete's name and the person's or company's name transporting the rifle have to be recorded in that form.

Assignment of Frequencies

Assessment of Fees and Contributions for the Assignment of Frequencies on the Occasion of the Biathlon World Cups in Germany

Germany's Federal Network Agency, Bundesnetzagentur, through its offices at Dresden, is in charge of assigning (i.e., delivering permits to use) frequencies on the occasion of the annual IBU World Cups Biathlon at Oberhof and Ruhpolding. Both IBU World Cups in Germany are held every year at the very beginning of the year in immediate succession. It has proved to make sense that the walkie-talkies would be checked at Oberhof and, if needed, that the permit would be delivered jointly for both events.

Any use of frequencies requires obtaining a permit. In Germany, the administrative term for this permit is "frequency assignment". The legal provisions that apply thereto can be found in Germany's "Telecommunications Act". There are various types of assignment:

1. General Assignment, administratively "Allgemeinzuteilung", in which applications and frequency bands are defined that anyone may use without a prior administrative procedure (e.g., walkie-talkies in the range of 446 MHz)
2. Individual Assignment, administratively "Einzelzuteilung", in which the assignment is restricted in time, running for up to 10 years; the type of assignment delivered for all civil uses of frequencies, where strictly defined technical parameters have to be respected
3. Short-term Assignment, administratively "Kurzzeiterteilung", in which the assignment is restricted in time, running for up to 30 days of service in a period of 3 months, where the validity of the assignment is limited to a defined place and for defined dates

Assignments under items 2 and 3 above are liable to a fee. Independently of the number of frequencies and the places of use, for assignments under item 2 above this fee is charged as a one-time payment of 130 €. So-called Contributions to the Frequency Tariff, administratively “Frequenzschutzbeitrag”, are levied in addition to this fee. The amount of these Contributions is assessed differently for various uses of frequencies (private mobile radio, wireless microphones, radio data transmission, broadcasting service, etc.). The amount is assessed by way of a legal regulation issued by the Federal Minister of Economics. They are meant to reverse the expenditure faced by the Federal Network Agency for administrative tasks associated with the frequency management and for interference suppression to the users of such frequencies. The assessment of the amount for contribution is always made retrospectively up to three years after the period of use.

The fee charged for assignments under item 3 above, independently of the number of devices, is 130 € for the first assigned frequency and 50 € for every additional assigned frequency. This type of assignment is MANDATORY in cases where the technical parameters required for Individual Assignments under item 2 above are not met (frequency not in line with applicable administrative regulation, higher transmitting power). Contributions to the Frequency Tariff are not levied in cases of Short-term Assignment.

The Federal Network Agency may deliver an Assignment under item 2 above with a short period of validity for concert tours or sport events held at several venues (administratively, “Tournée-zuteilung”). As explained above, only one fee is charged in this case. Short-term Assignments for every venue would result in a total fee multiple times more expensive. However, Contributions to the Frequency Tariff are levied in this case. They are levied per device and based on this device’s duration of service. The procedure is set out relative to the month.

When a joint “Tournée-zuteilung” (tour assignment) for the Oberhof and Ruhpolding venues is delivered, this Assignment is valid only in January of the respective year. To this end, the fee of 130 € mentioned for item 2 above is charged and has to be paid on site. The Contribution to the Frequency Tariff for January will be assessed later. The final figure may be known as late as three years after the period. Contributions for 2011 were levied in July 2013. They amounted for 2011 for 6 walkie-talkies to a total 2.38 €. Short-term Assignments for both venues will result in a fee of a total 260 €.

Representatives of the Federal Network Agency will be available in the team area of the Oberhof venue for any questions and issues. Frequencies may be registered either using Form C and submitting it to the Oberhof OC or with the representatives accompanying the test and measuring vehicle of the Federal Network Agency.

Please note that the use of the following frequency bands is prohibited in Germany:

Frequency assignments for short term usage are not possible in the following
